Additional Comments: I have been committed to providing parenting coordination services for over 15 years that help parents focus on the needs of their children and assist them in learning strategies to avoid conflict in the future. I have completed over 46 hours in Parenting Coordination training, have provided training for other professionals, and conducted research through University of Missouri on the practice to improve the process in our state. Services start with signing an appointment order designating the parenting coordinator that is handled by the parties' attorneys and the judge, and then a contract for services with our office for parenting coordination. These steps are followed up by meetings with each parent separately so that I can get to know the children, the family, and assess the areas where conflict occurs. Services are then tailored for each family based on the needs and the dynamics of the situation. We do limit the number of cases with current appointments, so please contact our office to make sure we are accepting additional cases before entering an appointment order.

Additional Comments: I have been a practicing attorney since 2010 and have dedicated my career exclusively to family law since 2014. With extensive experience in complex divorce and custody matters, I understand the legal and emotional challenges families face during these transitions. In addition to my legal practice, I regularly serve as a mediator, court-appointed Guardian ad Litem (GAL), and parenting coordinator, assisting families and divorcing couples throughout St. Louis and the surrounding areas. Parenting coordination provides a structured, child-focused approach to resolving disputes outside the courtroom. Whether helping parents make joint decisions, improve communication, or address custody-related concerns, my goal is to create a supportive and solution-driven process that keeps children's best interest at the center. I recognize that every family is unique, with its own dynamics and challenges, and I work closely with parents to implement strategies that reduce conflict and foster more effective cooperation. As a Parenting Coordinator, I bring a balanced, practical, and companionate approach, helping parents navigate co-parenting conflicts, and move beyond conflict and develop healthier, more sustainable co-parenting relationships that prioritize the well-being of their children. ADA accommodations available in office.
